Login through your library or institution

1. Select your region:

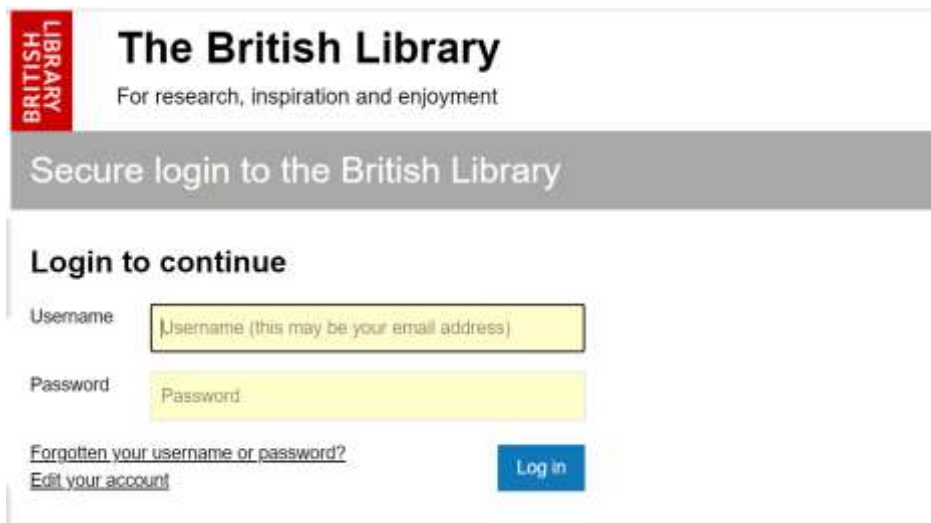

United Kingdom (UK Access Management Federation for Education and Research) ▼

You need to choose your library or institution; select British Library from the drop-down display and then click Login:

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Statistical Abstract of the U.S. login page. At the top, there is a blue header with the ProQuest logo and the text "Statistical Abstract of the U.S.". Below the header, the page is titled "Login through your library or institution". There are two steps: 1. Select your region: A dropdown menu is set to "United Kingdom (UK Access Management Federation for Education and Research)" with a "Select" button below it. 2. Choose your library or institution: A dropdown menu is set to "British Library" with a "Login" button below it.

The British Library's login page will display; you can login with your British Library username and password:

The screenshot shows the British Library login page. At the top left is the British Library logo. The main heading is "The British Library" with the tagline "For research, inspiration and enjoyment". Below this is a grey bar with the text "Secure login to the British Library". The main heading for the login section is "Login to continue". There are two input fields: "Username" with a placeholder "Username (this may be your email address)" and "Password" with a placeholder "Password". Below the password field are two links: "Forgotten your username or password?" and "Edit your account". A blue "Log in" button is located to the right of the password field.
